

Rep. Josh Clark
R-98

Biography

Representative Josh Clark is a native Georgian, born in Atlanta and raised in Suwanee. He has been married to his childhood sweetheart, Chelsey, for close to nine years. They reside in Buford, GA with their four children, Stephen, Moriah, Brianna and Levi.

Serving in the State House is just a natural progression of Josh's desire to make a difference and to give back. He hopes that through public service he can make this world a better place while conserving freedom and liberty for his children and future generations.

He credits his success as a small business owner to the work ethic he acquired growing up on a small farm with ten siblings. As the oldest Josh learned in his teen years what it meant to serve others and help with the family business. Over the years Josh has started several successful businesses. Today he owns a nutraceutical distribution company and a real estate investment and management company.

Josh and his wife, Chelsey, are very active in their community and attend First Baptist Church of Sugar Hill. Josh enjoys coaching youth sports, working with students in the Gwinnett County Schools and serving on the executive board of Berea School of Ministry.
