

Rep. Beth Moore
(D-95)

Biography

Representative Beth Moore is a lifelong Georgian currently residing with her husband, Lorie Moore, in Peachtree Corners in Gwinnett County. She graduated high school from Wesleyan, earned dual bachelor's degrees in psychology and German from UGA on the H.O.P.E. Scholarship, and received her law degree from Georgia State University.

Rep. Moore started her own entertainment law practice in 2012 representing artistic talent and creative entrepreneurs in Georgia's music, film, and television industries. From 2015 to 2017, she worked as the music business instructor at the Atlanta Institute of Music, and, from 2012 to 2013, served as the Executive Director of the National Association of Record Industry Professionals (Atlanta Chapter). She is a longstanding member of the Recording Academy, Georgia Production Partnership, Atlanta Film Society, and the Georgia Bar Association. As an incoming legislator, she was elected to serve as the Secretary of the Gwinnett House Delegation.

In addition to spending time with her large, extended family, Rep. Moore enjoys hiking, attending concerts, playing piano, and SCUBA diving.
