Where We Needed To Go
Hey Clarksville!
We’d like to hear from you.

Clarkesville has partnered with the University of Georgia’s Carl Vinson Institute of Government and the Georgia Municipal Association to help grow the economic development capacity and improve the look of the downtown area. We need to hear from you so we can make downtown Clarkesville an exciting place to live, visit, shop, dine, and, of course, invest.

Please take a few minutes and complete the survey or go online: https://survey.cviog.uga.edu/clarkesville.html

Clarksville begins focus groups

By KIMBERLY BROWN

The city of Clarksville has begun seeking input from residents and those who visit the city to determine what the future of Clarksville's downtown might hold.

Last month, the city contracted with the Carl Vinson Institute of Government at the University of Georgia to conduct surveys and interviews to determine what the future of Clarksville’s downtown might look like.

Clarksville Main Street board to tackle short-term projects

By KIMBERLY BROWN

As planning continues on rebuilding burned-out areas of the Clarksville Square, which was damaged by a fire last year, the Main Street board is looking to the future.

This week, the Clarksville Main Street board will meet to discuss potential projects that could be funded through the state’s Main Street program.

"The whole master plan is publicly-driven."

- MARY BETH HORTON, MAIN STREET MANAGER

Clarksville residents are expected to be able to discuss the plan with the Clarksville Main Street board at its next meeting, which is scheduled for 6 p.m. Monday, Aug. 25, at the historic hotel. The meeting will be held at the hotel and will include all downtown residents and businesses.

"We’re expecting the master plan for downtown to take several months to complete."

- BARBARA KESLER, CITY MANAGER
